Micro project Report

Title of micro project: Magazine Website

I. Rationale

ECO ECO Magazine aims to fill a gap in online media by offering a diverse range of articles focused on Entertainment, Fashion, Sports, and Games. Through PHP micro project implementation, it seeks to provide an accessible platform for users to engage with high-quality content tailored to their interests.

II. Aims/Benefits of the microproject

The project aims to create an immersive user experience, cultivating a vibrant community through seamless navigation and robust user authentication. With PDF download options and the ability for users to contribute articles, it enhances engagement and inclusivity, fostering a sense of ownership and belonging within the community.

III. Course outcomes achieved

- Develop program using control statements.
- Perform operations based on arrays and graphics.
- Use form controls with validation to collect user's input.
- Perform database operations in PHP.
- Create interactive webpage using regular expressions for validations.

IV. Literature review

Prior research underscores the significance of user engagement and personalized content delivery in online media platforms. Studies by Zhao et al. (2018) highlight the importance of user authentication systems in fostering trust and interaction, while Gupta et al. (2019) emphasize the utility of PDF download options in enhancing content accessibility and dissemination. These features align with user preferences for convenience and customization, contributing to a richer user experience and increased platform usage.

V. Actual Methodology Followed

We were assigned with the microproject topic and time was assigned to us to complete the project in 13 weeks. All team members worked together in these 13 weeks together in order to complete this microproject. Data was collected according to our topic. Project was implemented and finally at last technical report was prepared.

VI. Actual resources used
